DELEGATES OF EIGHTEEN POWERS TAKE UP TERMS

Details on Coming Versailles Congress Given Out

Premier Clemenceau, president of the peace conference, yesterday presided over a meeting of the representatives of the various powers at war with Germany and gave them some of the details of the coming Versailles congress April 25, when the German envoys will be present. It has not been disclosed whether the invitation to the Germans will be issued in the name of the council of five of all the powers represented at the peace conference.

The foreign ministers, who had under consideration certain provisions of the peace treaty, have reported to the council of ten that some of the articles have been referred back to the drafting committee, and it is understood that the remaining articles will be disposed of at the very earliest date.

The British prime minister has presented the situation at Paris before the House of Commans. In a lengthy speech he contented himself with discussing general aspects, rather than details of what the peace conference has done. He opposed intervention in Russia, declared that Bolshevism was gradually waning, deprecated attempts to sow dissension among the delegates and declared that the whole peace of the world hangs on the society of nations.

Food relief for Russia, under neutral control, has virtually been deciced upon by the allied and associated powers. Reservations by the French apparently are the only obstacles in the way of immediate action, and these, according to Paris advices, are expected speedily to be surmounted. The agreement to feed the Russians anticipates that the Bolsheviki must cease fighting.

Rioting in Munich.

With rioting still reported to be rampant in Munich and strikes continuing in numerous other parts of Germany, the workmen at Bremen, Germany's big port on the Weser, have called a general walk-out which is affecting most of the big industrial works and the street railways. Unofficial advices are to the effect that soldiers and non-commissioned officers of the German army also have threatened to strike if an order reducing their pay to a peace-time basis is not rescinded.

The financial section of the allied and associated governments in conference with financiers of Holland, Denmark, Norway, Sweden and Switzerland, have concluded an arrangement to permit Germany to obtain food and raw materials and also for an adjustment of maturing credits of Germany in neutral states.

Albania is the latest state to request the peace conference to provide for its complete independence, rectifying of its frontiers and the appointment of a mandatory to supervise the government.

Helgoland, Germany's extensively fortified island in the North sea, is to be dismantled and virtually destroyed by order of the council of four, according to unofficial advices.

NEUTRALS WILL RENEW GERMAN CREDITS

PARIS, April 16.—A meeting has been arranged between financiers representing Holland, Denmark, Norway, Sweden and Switzerland and the financial section of the allied and associated governments to enable the neutrals to make arrangements with Germany for the renewal and extension of German credits maturing in the near future. It also is planned to arrange for these neutrals to assist in improving German exchange conditions so as to enable Germany to purchase food and raw material.

The German government has asked to ship gold to neutrals against maturing credits, but this was refused by the allies because it would be inadvisable to permit Germany to use liquid assets in paying war debts when the money was required to pay reparations and normal conditions in Europe.

The five neutral states, therefore, arranged for food and raw materials to Germany and also for an adjustment of the maturing credits of Germany in neutral states.

TRANSPORT SAILINGS ARE ANNOUNCED

WASHINGTON, April 16.—Transport sailings were announced today as follows:

The transport Reginald d' Italia, due at New York April 26, has on board detachments of the 114th field battalion signal corps and 31 casual companies.

The transport Cape May, due at New York April 26 is bringing detachment of 16th engineers; 39th and 84th companies, transportation corps and 25 casual officers.

The transport south Pole is due at New York about April 28 with casuals.

U.S. Missionaries Are Chargedwith Pro-Germanism

WASHINGTON, April 16.—Formal charges of pro-German activity by certain American missionaries in Bulgaria and northern Persia have been forwarded to the American board of foreign missions by the state department.

These charges also involve the missionaries in political activities in Persia. The charges together with the results of investigations conducted by the state department were sent to the American board by Assistant Secretary of State Phillips.

Secretary Phillips said there had not been time to receive a reply from the board's headquarters in Boston. He expressed the belief that proper action would be taken by the board.

The detailed charges, it was said, would not be made public by the state department.

The state department, it was learned, has been greatly disturbed by the pro-Bulgarian activities of certain American missionaries in Bulgaria. The conduct of these missionaries was difficult to restrain owing to the fact that the United States and Bulgaria were not at war. Moreover, it is said that the missionaries exerted efforts to prevent a rupture between the countries. It is known that one of the charges is that the missionaries used funds designed to aid war sufferers to further the cause of Bulgaria and indirectly the cause of her allies.

Political activities by the missionaries in northern Persia, as well as Bulgaria, are said to have compromised them with the two governments, and have put the United States to unusual embarrassment in correcting the evils they have worked.

Unofficial reports from the board's headquarters were said today to intimate that severe disciplinary measures would be taken by the organization if investigation confirms the charges.

ROBERT M'CORMICK, AMERICAN DIPLOMAT DIES IN HINSDALE

CHICAGO, April 16.—Robert Sanderson McCormick, American diplomat and father of United States Senator Medill McCormick of Illinois, and Robert R McCormick, one of the editors of the Chicago Tribune, died of pneumonia today at his home in Hinsdale, a suburb. Ill health which forced him to retire as United States ambassador to France in 1907 had been with him much of the time since.

Mr. McCormick was born July 26, 1849, in Bockbridge county, Virginia, the son of William S. McCormick, ,who, with his brothers Cyrus H. Sr., and Leander, shortly afterward came to Chicago.

Robert S. McCormick, educated at the old Chicago university and the University of Virginia, became a collector of books and Napoleonic biographies and etchings.

In 1876 Mr. McCormick was married to Miss Katherine Medill, daughter of Joseph Medill, who founded The Tribune.

In 1901 President McKinley appointed Mr. McCormick minister to Austria. In 1903 President Roosevelt transferred Mr. McCormick to be ambassador to Russia.

Mr. McCormick aided in gaining entrance to Russia for The Associated Press. He also succeeded in influencing the czar's government to honor passports granted by this country to the Jews.

During the Russo - Japanese war, Mr. McCormick handled the interests of Japan in Russia.

In 1905 Mr. McCormick was promoted to ambassador to France, succeeding General Horace Porter. The Russian climate had undermined his health and in 1907 his condition caused him to retire.

At his death, the widow, his two sons and a sister, Mrs. Samuel R. Jewett, of Chicago, were beside him. A brother, William G. McCormick of Baltimore, also survives.

REACH AGREEMENT ON RELIEF WORK

PARIS, April 16.—An agreement was reached today by the associated powers to send food to Russia under neutral control, but the French representatives made several reservations which will be considered tomorrow. It seems likely, however, that the objections will be overcome and that the relief work will be pressed rapidly.

The agreement stipulates that the Bolseviki must cease hostilities.

The relief work will be in charge of a commission headed by Dr. Fridtjof Nansen, the Norwegian explorer. The other members will be citizens of Scandinavia and Switzerland.

CARDINAL PITCHER INJURED

St. Louis, April 16.—Five members of the regular pitching staff of the St. Louis Nationals were injured here today when an automobile in which they were riding collided with a street car. The injured were: William Doak, Leon Ames, Oscar Horstman, William Sherdel and Lee Meadows. The car was driven by Meadows.

LLOYD-GEORGE REVIEWS WORK OF CONFERENCE

Intervention in Russia and Recognition of Bolshivists Opposed

LONDON, April 16.—(By The Associated Press.)—No intervention in Russia; no recognition of Bolshevism, and the fulfillment of his election promises, including those relating to indemnity from the enemy powers and punishment of the former German emperor, were the outstanding features of the report which Premier Lloyd George delivered to the House of Commons today.

Every member was in his seat and galleries were packed with distinguished visitors, among them the Prince of Wales and the American ambassador, John W. Davis, when the premier entered the chamber. He appeared fresh and in buoyant spirits, pausing at times to make humorous sallies with members.

In the main, tho, his mood was serious, in conformity with the weighty subjects discussed, and the audience listened with profound attention to his lengthy speech.

The laborites vigorously applauded the premier's announcement of non-intervention in Russia and non-recognition of Bolshevism, but remained silent while the conservatives cheered the statement that the allies would continue to aid friendly elements which were fighting Bolshevism.

At the conclusion of the premier's speech, William Adamson, leader of the labor opposition in the house, rose and characterized the speech of the prime minister as eloquent, but not entirely satisfactory.

The premier said he had not come to the House of Commons to ask release for any pledge he had given.

Every Pledge Fulfilled.

"I am here to say that every pledge we have given is incorporated in the demands put forward by the allies," he asserted. "We stand by them because we believe they are just. We want a peace that is just, not vindictive. We want a stern peace, because the occasion demands it, but it must be designed not to gratify vengeance, but to vindicate justice. Every clause and every term in the conditions must be justified. Above all, we want to protect the future against a repetition of the horrors of this war."

The premier said he was going back to Paris if the house wanted him to go. Whoever went, he declared, must have the full confidence of the parliament and carry out his pledges to the utmost of his power and conviction.

The premier sharply criticised certain newspaper attacks that was made in connection with the peace conference, saying:

"When this kind of a disease is carried to the point of sowing dissension between great allies whose unity is essential for the peace of the world, when an attempt is made to make France distruct Great Britain, France to hate America and America to dislike France, and Italy, not even that kind of a disease is justification for so black a crime against humanity."

"They still believe in France that the Times is a serious organ. They do not know that it is only a three edition of the Daily Mail. On the continent they still think that the Times is a semi-official organ of the government. This shows how long it takes these traditions to die."

Refers to Future.

Referring to the necessity of returning to paths of peace and of reducing armaments, the premier said that the forces of the country which had kept Europe in arms for forty years were to be reduced to an army which would be only adequate enough to police her cities, and protect her commerce. There were suggestions that there might be a war recrudescene in Germany. That was not a danger, Mr. Lloyd George asserted because only with difficulty could Germany raise 80,000 men to preserve order. The danger he said was of the world going to pieces, adding:

"A real danger—the gaunt spectre of hunger—is stalking thru the land."

Premier Lloyd George concluded by pleading to all "not to soil this triumph of right by indulging the angry passions of mankind but to consecrate the sacrifices of millions to the redemption of the human race from the scourge and agony of war."

No conference in history, said the premier, had been faced with problems of such variety, complexity, magnitude and gravity. The congress of Vienna, which was the nearest to approach it, took eleven months for its work, but that congress, Mr. Lloyd George pointed out, sang into insignificance as compared with what had been settled by this conference.

"I would rather leave Russia bolshevik until they see their way out of it rather than see Great Britain land in bankruptcy," was one of the premier's declarations.

Railroads Will Go Ahead with Buying Supplies

CHICAGO, April 16.—Walter D. Hines, director-general of railroads, addressing the national Lumber Manufacturers' association today, said he wanted to make it clearly understood that although he had refused to accept the schedule of steel prices recently announced after conferences of the federal industrial board and representatives of the steel industry, the railroad administration was going ahead making its necessary purchases in every line of industry.

Mr. Hines discussed the situation freely, refusing to recede from his position. His approval of the prices, he said, would be in effect an endorsement of the American public that the prices were fair. He refused to take such responsibility because he had not been convinced that the prices were as low as they should be.

A discussion was started when R. A. Ling of Kansas City, asked Mr. Hines this question:

"How do we know, or rather how does Mr. Hines know that the prices as applied to steel products is not a reasonable price?"

"The industrial board, the majority of it, believed that the steel interests would not make any lower prices," said Mr. Hines. "That was real fact of it, not that the industrial board was not disappointed with those prices, but it believed the steel interests would not make any lower prices and therefore it came to those prices."

Mr. Hines declared his belief that the re-adjustment period would work out all right.

BATTLESHIP OREGON WILL AID IN LOAN

WASHINGTON, April 16.—The battleship Oregon, which made the famous trip around the horn during the Spanish-American war will contribute its part to the forthcoming Victory Liberty loan campaign by cruising along the Pacific coast, putting in at important ports, to stimulate enthusiasm for the drive.

Along the Atlantic coast the battleship Kentucky will start at Portland, Me., and make the New England ports.

The remainder of the Atlantic coast and the gulf coast will be covered by a flying squadron of six destroyers.

The use of these ships will be independent of the trip of the Navy Victory ship, which is to sail from San Francisco to New York, recording by its progress, the nation's subscription to the loan.

The American Indians in Oklahoma already have opened their campaign. The treasury today received word from the Kiowa Indian agency of Oklahoma, saying Indians there had pledged more than $150,000, exceeding their quota and being the first of the 240 Indian agencies in the United States to win a German helmet.

FAMOUS BRITISH WRITER IS DEAD

LONDON, April 16.—The death of the Rev. John Neville Figgis is announced here. He died Sunday.

John Neville Figgis, D. D., Litt D., was one of the best known writers on historical and theological subjects in England. He was lecturer at Harvard in 1911, and at Lake Forest College, Illinois in 1915.

Some of his better known works were "The Divine Right of Kings," and Christianity and History," and "The Gospel and Human Needs," "Civilization at the Cross Roads," and "Churches in the Modern State."

DENY MOTION FOR A MISTRIAL

NEW YORK, April 16.—Federal Judge Mayer today denied a motion by defendant's counsel for a mistrial in the case of Albert Paul Fricke, accused of treason, made on the ground that the reading to the jury of an alleged confession by Fricke, entailing treasonable acts, was contrary to the supreme court rulings in the case of Aaron Burr and other famous treason trials.

The mistrial overruled, ,Fricke's lawyer tried to have the confession excluded from the testimony but Judge Mayer left it stand.

A bookkeeper formerly in Fricke's employ testified to drawing checks for $10,000 for Karl Rodiger, a German agent also under indictment for treason.

Lowden Explains Bill Pending in the Legislature

SPRINGFIELD, Ill, April 16—Governor Lowden in a statement issued tonight pointed out that bills pending in the legislature providing for a state tax commission of three members would abolish the state board of equalization but would not change the status of local taxing authorities.

The statement was called out by a letter said to have been sent by a member of the existing equalization board to a member of a board of review as a part of a scheme to defeat the administration bills.

"This letter," says the governor's statement, "states that it is proposed to abolish not only the state board of equalization, but also townships assessors, boards of assessors, board of review and county treasurer as supervisor of assessments and all taxing bodies in the state." The governor brands the content of the letter as "wholly false" and declares all taxing bodies except the board of equalization "will be left intact to perform their usual functions."

In conclusion, the governor says: "Everyone recognizes the necessity of so revamping our taxing machinery as to produce a greater equality in taxation. Most men are willing to pay their fair share of taxes, but object to paying more than others relatively pay. These men, who constitute the vast majority of our population, can have no objection to the proposed bills. Only those who have thus far escaped their fair share can have any reason to oppose this legislation."

In executive session, the senate today confirmed Governor Lowden's recess appointments on the state civil service commission. Confirmation was held up pending investigation of complaints made against Commissioner Walter Shaw, Democrat, who was exonerated. Personal grievances of a discharged employe were said to have brought about the charges.

New Election Laws.

The senate municipalities committee late today reported out with favorable recommendations Senator Barbour's bills providing for non-partisan elections affecting Chicago city offices and proposing a fifty-ward division of Chicago.

Under the provisions of the fifty-ward bill, as amended in the committee, one alderman would be elected for a four year term from each ward, subject to recall after two years on petition of twenty five per cent of the voters. The city clerk and city treasurer, now elective, would be appointed by the council.

The Chicago bills were said to have the endorsement of the city council and Chicago civic organizations.

A preliminary hearing was held this afternoon on the Kessinger "blue sky" law backed by the secretary of state, who is charged with the administration of the act . Future consideration was set for next Tuesday in the senate chamber.

Theodore Chapman, representing the investment bankers' association of Chicago, urged a more specific definition of "fraud" as affecting operation of agents, brokers and solicitors of stock selling concerns. As the bill now stands agents and others handling securities for sale are deemed guilty of a felony if they dispose of stocks or bonds of an insolvent company.

W. T. Apmadore of the Chicago Stock Exchange was present and insisted that "listed securities" on recognized exchanges be exempted from the provisions of the law.

Bills abolishing fraternities and sororities in public schools and providing for a prohibition commissioner, appointive by the governor, to administer the anti-liquor laws of the state were reported out by Senate committees today with recommendations that they pass.

Both houses will hold morning sessions tomorrow and adjourn for the week.

IMPEACHMENT OF IOWA GOVERNOR FAILS IN HOUSE

Representatives Debate Case Until a Late Hour

DES MOINES, April 17.—Efforts to impeach Governor W. L. Harding for his part in the Rathbun pardon case were defeated in the Iowa house of representatives early this morning, when that body adopted a resolution censuring the chief executive.

By a vote of 79 to 37, the house adopted its judiciary committee's minority report for censure, after substituting it for the majority report, which recommended impeachment.

Final action came shortly before 1 o'clock after nearly fifteen hours of heated debate, in which impeachment advocates bitterly assailed the governor, while speakers in his defense declared the pardon "an unwillful mistake," warranting only censure.

This ends the legislative investigation of Governor Harding's action in pardoning Ernest Rathbun, the young son of an Ida county farmer, who was convicted of criminal assault and sentenced to life imprisonment. The pardon was granted last November.

The house will next take up the recommendation of the judiciary in regard to Attorney General H. M. Havner, whose methods of obtaining revocation of the pardon in February, resulting in commitment of young Rathbun to the reformatory, have been investigated by the committee.

Both majority and minority reports also have been presented to the house in the case of Havner. The majority recommendation is for complete exoneration, while the minority report declare recommends his censure.

Debate Case All Day.

Thruout the day the house listened to an incessant stream of oratory as proponents and opponents of impeachment presented their arguments.

Each faction presented the same number of speakers. More than a dozen spoke during the morning and afternoon sessions, and a similar number were expected to be heard tonight.

A call of the house was ordered to insure attendance of all members until action was taken.

Harding supporters asserted tonight that they had enough votes assured to defeat the impeachment resolution thru adoption of the minority report recommending only censure. A majority or fivty five votes, are necessary for passage.

In the opening argument in defense of the governor, Representative Vander Ploef of Marion county, declared that "after the investigation there was not a member of the committee who thought the governor had received money for the pardon."

Representative T. P. Harrington of Kossuth county, chairman of the judiciary committe, took issue with Vander Ploef's statement declaring that while the record does not show Governor Harding received any money for the pardon, neither does it show that he did not.

"Until all the facts of the case are explained, I will never say that the governor did not get any money," Harrington said.

Representative T. F. Griffin of Woodbury county, declared there was no evidence that the governor received money "and when his enemies saw that they could not find evidence to support that theory, they tried to see if they couldn't get something else.

Calls Governor an Ape

One of the most hearted arraignments of the governor was delivered by Representative U. S. Alderman of Story county, who referred to the criminal act of which Rathbun was convicted, cited certain statements he alleged the governor had made in regard to the matter and then shouted:

"The governor was mistaken in this case or he is an ape. I hate to think it was not a mistake, but I am forced to do so."

"If Governor Harding had come to us and said he made a mistake," Representative Alderman continued, "we would have forgiven him. He was not imposed upon; he knew what he was doing; he knows why he did it. We will never know why."

Referring to financial transactions between Rathbun's father and his attorney George Clark, of Ida Grove, Alderman said: "He didn't know whether the money got to Governor Harding or not, but it got perilously close."

A .C. (Burt) Johnson, an Ida Grove attorney, saw the governor in Carroll, before his appearance before the Ida Grove grand jury, Alderman said, and told the governor: "You have either got the Rathbun money in your pocket or you've been deceived. Which is it?"

"And the governor right there admitted he had been deceived," Alderman continued. "He went before the Ida county grand jury and testified that he had been deceived and he came down here

Recent Troubles Between Japan and U. S. Settled

WASHINGTON, April. 16.—Acting Secretary of State Polk today authorized the statement that no serious questions were pending between the United States and Japan, and that the indications were that minor issues arising from the situation in Siberia and the recent trouble in Tien Tsin as well as peace conference problems would soon be amicably settled.

Mr. Polk said there had been many sensational reports recently that were unjustified.

This statement followed closely one by Acting Secretary Crowell at the war department specifically denying a published report that Major General W. S. Graves, commanding the United States forces in Siberia, had reported the failure of American troops to aid the Japanese in a recent engagement was due to the fact that the Japanese had shot down women and children.

It was disclosed that the engagement was fought at Habarovsk, February 5 by a Japanese unit against revolters against General Horvath, one of the Siberian commanders with whom the allies have cooperated, and that no American troops were in the vicinity at the time. The Japanese force was wiped out. Some unofficial dispatches have created the impression that Americans stood by, refusing to go to the aid of outnumbered allies. It was officially explained today that the Japanese commander had asked for cooperation in advance and ordered the expedition unaided after being informed that the Americans could not participate in an attack upon people who were not recognized as enemies or Bolsheviks.

General Graves' report said the revolt was caused by alleged atrocities such as the killing of women and children. The trouble appears to have been local, however, and officials of both the state and war departments regard the attitude of General Graves as entirely proper as he had instructions to refrain from interfering with local controversies and political movements.

The policies of the United States and Japan as to the conduct of operations in Siberia and the reasons for the presence of allied troops at Vladivostok, it was officially stated, are the same, altho there is a difference of opinion as to the extent to which the troops should be used. An understanding on this point is expected.

BURLESON TAKES STEPS TO SETTLE NEW ENGLAND STRIKE

WASHINGTON, April 16.—Steps toward settlement of the strike of New Englandw telephone operators were taken today by Postmaster General Burleson and Secretary Tumulty. Each urged the strikers to return to work immediately and submit their demands for a high wage scale and recognition of the right of collective bargaining to the general manager of the New England Telephone & Telegraph company.

The operators were assured by both the postmaster general and Secretary Tuhulty that their application would be acted upon promptly after its submission to the manager of the company, who has been authorized to accept any proposed from and recommend its adoption by the wire operating board.

In a statement given out late today after a conference with Secretary Tumulty, Mr. Burleson declared that the postoffice department was not free to grant wage increases which would have to be paid for by the public, without carefully inquiring into the relation between revenues and expenditures," of the company. He promised, however, that the increases were found to be "just and reasonable," they would be granted if the charges to the public had to be advanced.

Mr. Burleson warned the strikers that unless they returned to work at once, the people of New England, "now suffering so seriously from the loss of service," would turn against them and would be "less likely to give the employes the support necessary to warrant favorable government action."

FAVOR JOINING A NATIONAL STRIKE

SACRAMENTO, Cal., April 16.—Members of the Brotherhood of Electrical Workers in California, Washington, Arizona and Nevada have voted in favor of joining a national strike to force government recognition of telephone employes' unions, Thomas C. Robbins, western representative of the international organization, said today.

The result of the vote has been forwarded, Robbins said, to international headquarters of the brotherhood at Springfield where it is expected the nation-wide result would be announced May 5.

Electrical unions of the Pacific coast three months ago took vote on a proposal for a strike to secure government recognition, and the result, Robbins declared, was in favor of the proposal. A nation-wide vote was ordered by international headquarters.

PRESENT SYSTEM MILITARY JUSTICE SHOULD CONTINUE

Declares Three Major Generals of Regular Aarmy

WASHINGTON, April 16.—Three major generals of the regular army, Leonard Wood, Hugh L. Scott, (retired) and John L. Chamberlain, inspector general, opposed today before the American Bar association committee inquiring into the subject of military justice, any plan of taking from the president and the commanding generals the control they now exercise over court-martial. The present controversy as to war time sentences began with the proposal of Lieut. Col. Samuel T. Ansell to repose in the judge advocate general final jurisdiction of these cases.

The three officers were in agreement that the proposed charge would impair the disciplinary system, altho they saw defects in existing laws or regulations which should be remedied. To meet complaints as to excessive sentences, the officers were of the opinion that the president should be authorized to fix maximum penalties in war times as well as in peace.

"But whatever is done," General Wood declared, "give us a simple, direct process. We don't want the haggling over technicalities of civil court cases."

General Chamberlain shared this view. He opposed the suggestion that it be made mandatory that trained legal officers preside over courts.

General Scott was positive that control of discipline was an essential function of command.

While probably 75 per cent of the cases brought to trial during the war never should have reached a court-martial stage, General Wood said, it was the inexperience of officers, their lack of "the habit of command" and the failure of the human element that could not be reached by law which caused this situation.

"The fundamental defect of our court-martial procedure," he said, "is not in the machinery but in the failure to carry out its operations properly."

Urged to Be More Careful.

General Wood urged that more careful scrutiny should be given to cases before they were brought to trial, that greater use be made of the many disciplinary measures not involving legal proceedings at the disposal of commanders; that competent counsel be assigned for all prisoners and that Judge Advocates of courts incline towtard the French system, by which the legal officer merely presents the case.

The tendency of court-martial all three generals contended, was toward protection of the accused. General Wood said this was followed thruout the whole military justice system and if there was error in final action, it was almost certain to be on the side of the accused.

Charges that officers received better treatment from court-martial than enlisted men General Wood held to be groundless.

E. M. Duncan, of Maryland, who served during the war as a major in the engineer corps, appeared voluntarily. He said he had "sat on probably a thousand court-martials" and vigorously attacked the attitude of officers as "not human" in dealing with disciplinary matters. At least 40 per cent. of the sentences imposed by courts of which he was a member, he characterized as "unjust."

General Chamberlain disclosed that at the outbreak of the war, Secretary Baker ordered that every complaint received by the inspector-general be investigated, and said his office went carefully into the charges.

LIBERTY NOTES.

The Victory Loan appeals to loyalty and patriotism. But that is not all, for if anything, the appeal is stronger to business instinct. Government notes for a short period of time, at a high rate of interest, free from taxation make up an investment opportunity never before afforded. The chances are there will not be enough notes to "go around."

WOMEN INTERESTED IN CITY AFFAIRS.

There is no denying the fact that women of Jacksonville are very much interested in city affairs. In the election Tuesday there were 92 more votes cast by women than by men. There were two causes—interest and organization. This does not mean that an exact poll was made and a house to house organization effected, but under informal tho efficient leadership the women went to the polls and expressed their wishes in a very decisive way.

And talking about municipal elections, it is a wide swing from a majority of 2136 given the candidate on one ticket, to the majority of 1,345 for a candidate on another ticket. Men and women certainly know how to scratch balots.

THE SCHOOL BOARD ELECTION.

The board of education election is near at hand and will be held Saturday in accordance with requirements of the general law. The names of J. P. Lippincott, president; Henry Muehlhausen, T. H. Rapp and Dr. C. E. Black, members will appear on the official ballot. The fact that there were no other candidates filed petitions is indicative that the work of the board has been generally satisfactory. It indicates too a feeling on the part of the public that the present board members should continue in office at least until present tasks are finished. Those who constitute the board at present know more about school needs and the problems which resulted from the burning of the high school building than others could know without a considerable period of investigation.

As has been said at other times, the board of education has the confidence of the people and there is a general feeling that it is the earnest desire of the president and board members to do only those things that are for the best interests of the Jacksonville schools.

A CHANCE FOR WORK.

In past days the Chamber of Commerce has been accorded its share of criticism. That will be true if the organization is revived but nevertheless it has its place in the business life of Jacksonville. Whether the organization be called a Chamber of Commerce, a Jacksonville Business Men's association or something else, there is work to do and work which cannot easily be assigned to any other agency.

So the movement to once more put the Chamber of Commerce into working order is well timed, especially now that the after- war period has come and there will be many problems which call for united consideration and action. The Chamber of commerce can do its most successful work if it is not confined to the business interests of the city. If its membership includes representatives of industry, the professions and the business world, all jointly intetrested a great deal of community work can be accomplished.

THE HAZARD OF MINING.

If one reads all the historical facts about the terrible loss of life in the war it is interesting to note that a report by an English investigator shows the mining industry is more deadly than war. In a ten year period records show that out of the million persons employed in the British coal mines 1,240 met death each year The number of accidents for one year was near the 160,000 mark, so it has been said that the miner is "always in the trenches."

This record of fatalities and of injuries gives a fairly good reason why the mining industry is not overcrowded altho the scale of wages is so high that the men who work steadily easily make from $8 to $15 a day. The miner is well paid but he must lead a charmed life if he continues many years on this earth without being maimed while at work.

COL. HOUSE AS AN AUTHOR.

Something else very interesting has been unearthed about Colonel Houpse, whose present influence at the peace conference seems to have a potency second only to that of President Wilson. Colonel House wrote a book a few years ago which he called "Phillip Dru" and this volume, it has been found, discusses international possibilities, wars and their suppression and a combination or league of nations with some of the principles included in Mr. Wilson's famous fourteen points.

Colonel House has never held public office but few men have attained prominence in nationad affairs equal to his. The House influence with President Wilson is manifestly greater than that of the legislative department of the government or that of any other individual. To be the right hand man, the confidential adviser, the "eyes and ears" of the president of the greatest nation in the world, is an honor well worth while.

GREAT RESPECT FOR MILITARY POLICE.

Members of the Chicago police force do not seem to resent the fact that military police have been assigned to duty in their city and are co-operating for the suppression of crime. This joint service was advisable because of conditions as each day showed a long series of misdemeanors with which the police force did not seem to be able to cope successfully.

The milntary police are devoting themseves especially to soldiers and it is said that soldiers stand much more in awe of them than they do of the regular bluecoats. It is the same way with federal officers. Criminals who defy city officers or those representing state authority have a wholesome respect for federal agents. Experience has proven that there is no use seeking to elude or delude these officers. There have been four auto accidents here in the last three days caused by speeding. A few of the M. P. could do valiant local service.

Noah's Ark.

It is hard to write a packet of the verse that man enjoys, when the house is full of racket, full of fifty kinds of noise. Oh, the boys and girls assemble in the shack wherein I dwell, making that old structure tremble, while they whoop around and yell. Then I think of Father Noah and his cargo in the ark, of his warthog and his boa, and his large maneating shark. I appreciate the feelings while he tried to do his chores, 'mid the yappings and the squealings and the whinnyings and roars. When he tried to give instructions to his helpers, Shem and Ham, some old bull was raising ructions, scrapping with the Southdown ram. It is strange that Fathr Noah found an hour in which to sleep while he steered his air cooled proa o'er the wide and wailing deep. For the horses all were neighing and he heard hyenas croon, and the mules were doubtless braying, all their voices out of tune; and the roosters did their crowing, just as tho they were on land, and the cows were bawling, lowing in a style to beat the band. Yet there is no record written that Noah made ascene even when his leg was bitten by a mangy wolverine. And if he could do his choring with those critters all around, I have no excuse for roaring at a little vagrant sound.

ENTERTAINMENT WAS A SUCCESS

The management of the Josephine Milligan school announced yesterday that the total proceeds of the entertainment given Tuesday evening amounted to $106.67, and after all expenses are paid there will be about $95 to go toward the purchase of a Victrola for the use of the school. The children of the various ward schools made an excellent showing in the sale of tickets, those of Jefferson school leading with a total of $29.30 turned in. Washington school was a close second with $20.75 worth of tickets sold.

Miss Hammond, principal of the school, stated yesterday that she wished to thank all of those who in any way contributed to the success of the evening, and especially the following: F. J. Waddell & Co., Economy Grocery, Brady Bros., Thomas Duffner, all of whom loaned furnishings; Mrs. E. C. Carpenter and Miss Dorothy Cannon, who presided at the pianos, and Miss Dorothy Dorsey, who assisted in training the children.

AT LAFAYETTE SCHOOL.

The Parent-Teacher association of the second ward met Wednesday afternoon at Lafayette school with Mrs. H. J. Capps presiding. After a short business session the assemblage had the pleasure of listening to an address by Miss Katherine Olmsted who is now engaged in Morgan county in public health work. Miss Olmsted during the war period had most unusual experiences as a Red Cross nurse in Roumania and Russia and her escape thru Lapland constitutes a story of vital interest. Members of the association were vastly interested in Miss Olmsted's recital, for she is relating not what she has read or heard but what she saw and did. Following the address came a social hour with refreshments.

SOME FORGOTTEN ENTERPRISES

By Ensley Moore

(Member Illinois State Historical Society)

is now scarcely dignified as an enterprise. But in the early days of the last century it seemed to be one, in more than one way. First because almost every man indulged in the product of the still in those days; and secondly, because this was an easy way of getting rid of produce, when transportation was lacking. It was also easier to transport the liquid than the grains, if they were to be moved far.

The distillery here referred to was owned and operated by Mr. Forsythe, father of Lieutenant Benjamin D. Forsythe, one of our early West Pointers.

The establishment was on South Main street, just south of the Brook about half way from the stream to the present residence of Dr. A. R. Gregory.

One of the noticeable features of the plant was the long row of corn cribs, opposite the stillhouse, on what was so long known as the Andras place, on the hill just south of the Brook on the east side of South Main street.

The establishment was probably built in the later "thirties," and burned, as recalled, in the "forties."

Mr. Forsythe had his residence in what was afterwards known as the "Shirley house," where the Pacific hotel now stands, at the northwest corner of State and East streets.

Hammond's Foundry.

Contemporaneous with the building of the distillery, perhaps, was that of the foundry, on the west side of South Main street, one door south of College street, about where the La Crosse Lumber Yard is now.

It was run by Aaron Hammond, who lived in the house immediately north of the foundry, at the corner of College street. It was quite a large building, covering considerable ground, being one story in height.

It was there till after the Civil War, some time.

Mr. Hammond was the father of the Misses Hammond, long well known as teachers in our public schools. Miss Ellen Hammond was principal of one of the schools. Another is now occupying a fine position in the East.

Miss Laura Hammond is at the head of the Open Air school.

Another Foundry

was at one time on the block west of West street, on the south side of State street. It was run by a man named Delf or Delft.

It does not appear to have had a very long continuance in the business.

Still Another Foundry

was opened in 1859, out at the Junction of the Alton and Wabash railroads.

It was opened by Ellis, Shields and Dangerfield. They were succeeded by Dangerfield & Co., and they by John Fidler.

New buildings were erected later, and, about 1878, Akers & Russell took over the establishment. It afterwards passed into other hands.

Akers & Russell made stationary engines and elevator machinery.

They were Robt. N. Akers and John W. Russell.

Speaking of John Fiddler, a well known citizen told this story: The aforesaid citizen was a member of the City Council—and a god one—attentive to his duties. He was a member of the Gas Light committee, and, on investigating, found the Gas Co. was charging for a certain twenty new lights. He found the posts were gotten from John Fiddler—who is not supposed to have had anything further to do with this story. His duty ended with making the posts. The Councilman found only two of the posts were in use, and also found the other eighteen down at Fidler's foundry. Meantime the city was paying for eighteen lights which were not being furnished. So the member of the council brougnt the matter before that august body, and the Gas Company was allowed to reduce its bill for the lights it had not furnished.

It makes considerable difference what kind of city officers we have.

Other Enterprises.

In Eames' History is a list of "first things" here.

Among them is the statement that John Eads was the first blacksmith. In another place, telling of the organization of the first Fourth of July celebration—in 1830—Eames says: "The committee was appointed with the venerable John Eads as chairman."

Richard Nelson had the first ropewalk. How many people, now, know what a ropewalk was?

Frank Reed was the first silversmith. Who was Frank, and when did he open up?

Mr. Terry (Silas) was the first Windsor chair maker. How many, now, know what a Windsor chair was?

Samuel Cobbs.

Mr. Cobbs had a carriage and wagon factory, in connection with his blacksmith shop. It was the second door east of West street, fronting south on State street, and ran thru to Court street. It was quite an extensive establishment. One of the blisses of the small boy at the County Fair was to see Mr. Cobbs' buggies and carriages, resplendent in their bright paint and smart equipment.

Soon after one of the fairs the present Hon. William S. Lurton appeared on the road, with his new wife, in one of Mr. Cobbs' vehicles.

"Oh, Boy, wasn't it a grand feeling!"

"THE PRICE OF PEACE" AT RIALTO FRIDAY

"The Price of Peace," the first official picture of the world war to be released thru the Victory Liberty Loan committee, will be shown at the Rialto, Matinee and night, Friday, April 18. This picture includes many of the U. S. government officials as well as our soldiers from the time of enlistment until the march into Berlin. As the picture is made and produced at the expense of the government it will be shown at the local theatre at the regular price, and should be seen by every show-going person in the city. If released thru the regular course this film would no doubt command a price of from 25c to 50c a seat, and would be worth even the latter sum. The local organization is especially anxious to have everyone see this picture.

The Luly-Davis Drug Co. will start another TRIANGLE SALE Friday, April 18th, at the Obermeyer Drug Store. Three articles for the price of two. All goods guaranteed. Remember the date and the place.

JACK HUDSON FALLS DOWN ELEVATOR

Employe of Powers-Begg Packing Company Plunges Into Basement When Rope Breaks—Receives Bad Cuts on Head.

Jack Hudson, an employe of the Powers-Begg Packing Company sustained painful injuries about the head Wednesday when he fell down an elevator shaft at the company plant striking on the concrete floor.

The injured man was taken to the office of Dr. A. M. King where it required several stitches to close the injuries. He was then taken to his home, 517 South East street.

Hudson had gone to the basement of the plant to get material and had started back to the second floor on the elevator. As he neared the floor he reached forward to pull the rope to stop the elevator. LLOYD - GEORGE REVIEWS WORK OF PEACE CONERENCE

"It is not true that the United States and Europe have been at variance," the premier declared. He deprecated attempts to sow dissensions among the delegates.

The League of Nations.

In his reference to his League of Nations, Mr. Lloyd George said the conference might have taken more time but for the fact that it was setting up a machinery capable of readjusting and correcting possible mistakes.

"And that is why the league of nations, instead of wasting time, saved time." he added.

"The conference had to shorten itslabors," continued the premier, "because, while it was trying to build in many lands the foundation of society was tumbling into the dust. No body of men worked harder or in better harmony than the peace conferees," he asserted, and he doubted whether any body of men ever worked under greater difficulties.

"Stones were clattering on the roof and wild men were screaming through the key hole while the enormous issues depending on them which required calm deliberation," the premier said.

He asked for the opportunity for such deliberation for the rest of the journey which was not at an end.

Questions have cropped up at the peace conference which imperilled the peace of Europe, but the premier believed that the conference had surmounted those difficulties.

France Not Forgotten.

The delegates, said Mr. George, had never forgotten what France had gone thru and they had not forgotten to what she was entitled — not merely security against a repetition of the German attack, but to feel a sense of security against it. The conference had come to a unanimous conclusion on all the questions before it including a decision that to publish the peace terms before they were discussed with the enemy would be a first class blunder. Their premature publication, he contended, could only serve to encourage the resistance of the enemy.

Mr. Lloyd George denied that he was trying to escape the declarations he made during the general election campaign. The declaration regarding making Germany pay, he declared, had been concurred in by all the party leaders.

The premier said he believed the conference had surmounted these difficulties but it was not an easy task. There were questions one never heard of which almost imperilled the peace of Europe while the conference was sitting, he added.

Questions that have never been heard of before the war had nearly started a conflict between two of the allied states Mr. Lloyd George continued, and there were a number of such questions. But, he added, after all it was quarrels over small states which had made the great war. He spoke of the difficulties in the Balkans and added:

"One of the features of the present situation, owing to the breaking up of the central empires, it that central Europe has been Balkanized into small states. Care must be taken lest causes of future unrest be created by the settlement made."

The question of Russia was one of the most complex problems ever dealt with by any body of men, Mr. Lloyd George pointed out. One difficulty was that there was no Russia. "There is an organization controlling central Russia but there is nobody who can say it is even a de facto government for the whole of Russia," he declared.

"MICKEY" is an epoch making picture.

LORRAINE FAVORS JOINING FRANCE

BERNE, April 15.—(French Wireless Service)—"If a referendum was to be held today in Alsace and Lorraine an immense majority of the people would vote in favor of joining France," declares Eduard Bernstein, the old German Social Democrat leader and member of the German peace delegation, in an article in a Vienna newspaper. Alsace-Lorraine, he adds, could not be an autonomous state because it would then be the scene of endless political and economic intrigue.

Herr Bernstein says he would like to see Republican Germany depart from the policies of the abolished empire, adding:

"Let us avoid unjust charges that would for many years paralyze our economic life; but let us make reparation as we promised for the damage we have done in the devastated countries. Let us refute unjust accusations made against us, but let us, above all things, make but few protestations."

Representative Griffin came to the defense of the governor, declaring the majority report "takes for truth all statements and evidence detrimental to the governor and brands as false all else."

"There must be evidence that the governor acted wilfully in this case before he can be found guilty," Griffin concluded.

Representative J. A. Williams of Pottawattomie county, said the governor had answered every question and was not evasive either before the grand jury or before the committee.

Representative W. C. Edson of Buena Vista, spoke in favor of impeachment, confining his remarks entirely to the abstract which was filed in the supreme court and which the governor had declared he read before granting the pardon.

"The record in this case is enough to condemn the man who acted on it in granting the pardon," he said.

Representative J. M. Wormley of Plymouth county, defending the governor, told the house to "keep in mind there still is a God in Heaven and a few mistakes still are being made by mortal man."

"Crucify him, crucify him," the speaker cried. "It's easy to cry impeach him, it's easy to charge a man with a crime.

MR. ALBERT TO TALK HERE FRIDAY

Will Explain to Organized Labor Purpose of Community Council Plan.

Elsewhere announcement is made that Allen D. Albett is coming to Jacksonville Friday night to make an address at the labor temple on the community council plan. In view of this fact the statement of what has been done in Cincinnati along this same line is of interest. A recent bulletin on the subject saiys:

Cincinnati is the original exponent of the Social Unit System. Three years ago the experiement was started in one section of the city, where the city block was the unit. Feeling that a large city was losing one of the functions that makes for development of young people, the effort has been made to reproduce in every city block the small town feeling. When it is realized that out of one hundred of Chicago's leading citizens, 85 were born and raised on farms or in small towns, the reason for this decision is evident.

In these small units the effort is made to increase greater neighborliness. With acquaintance comes the stimulating effect of public opinion, which it is believed in addition to general material improvement of the neighborhood has a developing and awakening effect upon the young. Cincinnati has even gone so far as to reproduce those motherly women of which every small town has one or two to whom the neighbors always go in time of trouble or stress. It is along the lines of these experiments that Secretary Lane's National Social Unit Association has developed.

Norman Deweese, well known real estate man, has just returned from a trip to the oil fields of Kansas. He was at Humboldt, Yates Center, Neosha Falls, Iola and Vernon, all of which are new except Humboldt. Hundreds of wells are being sunk in the localities indicated and the greatest activity prevails.

In an agricultural way Mr. Deweese found the prospects fine in Kansas. Wheat is far advanced and gives promise of an excellent yield. Mr. Deweese was especially interested in the prospects in the oil fields for in the localities visited men are making money very rapidly.

BATTLE TANK COMING

The Liberty Loan headquarters at Jacksonville is in receipt of the information that the battle tank and crew, both veterans of the world war, will be in Jacksonville Friday afternoon from 4:30 until Saturday at 10:30 p. m., and will demonstrate on the streets of the city. It is also the plan of the local organization to take the tank by way of wagon road, on its own power, to Alexander, thence to Franklin and Murrayville, returning to Jacksonville by way of Wodson.

This trip, however, is contingent upon good roads and good weather, as the tank must be delivered to the train at 10:30 p. m. Saturday. The local organization, being held responsible for this delivery, will have to be sure of good roads and favorable weather before attempting the above trip.

AUTO DRIVER HURT WHEN CAR OVERTURNS

Matthew Reynolds Suffered Severe Injuries Thru Accident Which Happened on the Morton Road.

Yesterday morning Matthew Reynolds, agent for the Holland furance and residing at 244 Pine street, was going east on the Morton hard road near the east end of the improvement in a car and a short distance ahead of him was Frank Tindall in another car and coming in this direction just east of the end of the improvement was Dr. Griggs.

Mr. Tindall was not going very fast and Mr. Reynolds thought he would pass him as there was room enough on the concrete with careful driving but as he endeavored to go around a front wheel, by some means, went off the road bed and the car turned over several times finally stopping right side up. Dr. Griggs was so near he put on the emergency brake and guided his car into the ditch up the bank and his car and Mr. Reynolds stopped side by side jammed against each other.

Dr. Griggs' car was not injured and he was not hurt but he saw Mr. Reynolds down in the dirt his head pinioned under the car he had been driving. With Mr. Tindall's help the unfortunate man was extricated and was unconscious.

They lifted him into Dr. Griggs' car and went to the residence of James Reynolds near by and telephoned for Dr. King. Later they decided to ask the doctor to meet them at the hospital but he had already started and met them at Oak Lawn.

The unfortunate man was taken to Our Savior's hospital and regained consciousness as they arrived. It was necessary to take 24 stitches in his scalp which was badly torn from the head. He will probably be laid up for some time. He has a wife and two childden and came here from Muscatine, Iowa.

Dr. Griggs went back after the wreck and found one tire of the wrecked car down and thought possibly that might have been the cause of the accident.

"MICKEY" THE EXPRESSIVE PERSONALITY

Coming to the Rialto next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday is "Mickey."

Every human emotion, every element of life, Mabel Normand portrays with such genuine artistry as only so everlasting and unforgettable a personality as Mickey can inspire.

So true and real is her charming portrayal of this famous personality, that the audience lose themselves completely in her fascinating appeal.

She brings tears to the eyes at one moment and at the very next has her audience roaring with laughter. She registers equally well scenes of the broadest comedy, of tense dramatic interest, and in addition, performs breath-catching stunts that will thrill a whole nation.

Her quick, expressive eyes and mobile countenance respond to every mood and Mickey becomes a living, breathing personality, vivified by the undisputed ability of this adorable creature. Her peerless characterization will immortalize the name "Mickey."

Mickey runs the gamut of every human emotion, expressed with mastery and sincerity never before equalled.

CALL ISSUED TO BUSINESS MEN

Conference Called for Next Monday Night to Discuss This Subject.

When a group of business men assembled Tuesday for the breaking of ground at the site of the proposed building of the Eli Bridge Co. it was suggested that some steps should be taken for reviving the activities of the Chamber of Commerce. Yesterday a committee including John J. Reeve, W. S. Ehnie, M. R. Fitch and Henry Frisch met and arranged to hold a supper at Peacock Inn next Monday evening at 6 o'clock, for the purpose of taking over plans and putting the organization into working order.

The charter of the Chamber of Commerce was never surrendered but for more than a year past the organization has been in a quiescent state. During the war period the majority of the directors believed that it was not a time for special Chamber of Commerce activity and so by common consent no meetings were held and nothing of a formal kind attempted. It is generally conceded that in normal times there are abundant uses for some such business organization and it is on this account that it is proposed to revive the organization and again take up definite lines of work.

Plates will be 75c and all who are interested in the welfare of Jacksonville are invited to be present. Those who expect to attend are requested to notify the Peacock Inn not later than Monday noon.

WHY I WOULD NOT MARRY

It is every woman's problem—an age old problem—that confronts Adele Moore, beautiful society girl. Four men—a lawyer, a banker, a physician and an impecunious youth—have professed undying love for her. She believes them all—does not know, even now while they await her answer in an adjoining room, which one of them to accept.

The men wait; they are to have their answer within an hour. The girl, never more undecided, hesitates. And then, suddenly, as if by magic, there appears out of the Nowhere an Indian Swami, exponent of the occult and revealer of hidden mysteries. He sets before Adele a mystic globe and bids her peer into its depths.

She gazes—and starts in amazement. One after another are enacted before her the chapters of the lives she would lead as the wife of each of the waiting men.

Every womanly instinct in her is in revolt ere the last cycle of her experience has been revealed. Human nature asserts itself; she turns to extremes. And then again, but not as mysteriously as before, the Swami appears. And this time he presents her with the key that unlocks the door of true happiness. Her life problem is solved—but how is a part of the story that is reserved for the interesting unwinding of the film.

This great picture will be at Scott's Theatre tomorrow.

JOHN CARL TELLS OF WAR EXPERIENCES

Local Man With Famous 37th Division—Took Part In Many Engagements.

Three more young men have crossed the briny deep after serving their country abroad They are John Carl, Allen Kelly and Mr. Knight, formerly employed at Jacksonville State Hospital. The latter is detaintd at Camp Grant thru some informity but the others are at home and in one shape They were together all thru their services abroad and seem well pleased with their experiences.

Mr. Carl was seen yesterday and had many interesting things to narrate. He entered the service last April and went first to Camp Dix, New York, for five weeks and then to Camp Lee, Virginia where he was placed in the 14th Infantry, 37th division, where they remained two weeks and then sailed for France arriving at Brest July 5th.

There they remained three weeks and then set out for business. They were successively at Loraine, Avacourt, Argonne Forest front, from Sept. 26 to Oct. first and then to Pannes, St. Mihiel from Oct. 7th to 16th.; then to Ypres and Lys on offensive Oct. 31 to Nov. fourth. Back to Ypres on the offensive Nov. 9th to 11th.

To Mr. Carl was assigned the arduous duty of billeting the troops and he had a difficult task but he seemed to be well fitted for it both before and after the armistice signing. He would be sent ahead when the command was moving and ordered to find the best quarters possible for the men. He was called town major in some cases and had a good job on his hands.

The famous 37th took 1,107 prisoners and lost 17 officers and 1,101 men killed; 410 officers and 2,4?2 men wounded. Many interesting incidents took place during the service of the 37th. At one place they killed two women who were serving machine guns.

At Argonne they were a time so close to the enemy that they could be heard and when the tide began to turn they would locate a dugout and shout to the men to come out and surrender. Generally the privates would obey but the officers were not quite so willing and waited till hastened by the arrival of a few hand grenades in their midst when they found discretion the better part of valor.

Germans Chained to Guns.

In many cases they found Germans chained to their guns. Sometimes in trees, steeples and all sorts of places and held fast. They found many German prisoners glad to be taken by American troops and they hoped to be brought to America as prisoners.

The Belgians couldn't do enough for the American soldiers whom they regarded as their deliverers. They were always delighted to show every service possible.

At Thielt he met a lady, wife of a promient Belgian and a native of New York. She said Mr. Hoover had sent them six million kilos of wheat flour and the Huns captured it and left them a portion of potato stuff, very poor. The Germans took everything that they could carry away and then took a savage delight in wantonly destroying all they could not use.

At one place he saw a poor Belgian who had been held by the Germans a prisoner at hard work for four years. Many civilians were thus taken and subjected to all maner of hardships and cruelties. This poor fellow had evidently received warning of what was coming for when he reached the place where once had been his home he began digging in the ruins and unearthed a secret place where several valuable articles were hidden. He took out his watch in good order and a lot of things he highly prized.

In the Argonne Forest the 37th U. S. command met the famous 37th Prussian guards and again in Belgium.

Ypres Heap of Ruins.

Ypres they found merely heaps of ruins with a board here and there designating what had been a street or other prominent place. They found many bodies of German soldiers who had fallen and had been left by their comrades to decay. They were decently buried by the U. S. troops.

They had various close calls and some didn't get back to tell the story. At one place a dozen or more U. S. soldiers were sitting around a table in a building when a German bomb dropped and demolished the part of the house next to them and the shock scattered them all about the room but no one was badly hurt. At Recicourt, Argonne front he and a comrade were standing near together when a German bomb dropped and exploded near enough to knock them a good distance but fortunately they escaped without serious injury.

As the Germans left the country they placed lots of decoys which sometimes proved fatal. They would leave a watch, a purse, a hand grenade, a cross which any one not knowing their infernal meanness would innocently pick up to be blown to pieces by a hidden explosive.

In a number of the places the Belgians would delve into ruins and bring out fine wines which had been placed in secret vaults but the soldier boys could never find any.

Once three German officers, prisoners, were being conducted along a street when a Belgian woman saw them and recognized one of them who had been cruel to her and her family, and pounced on him and beat him several times with her wooden shoe before the men in charge of the prisoners could stop her and it was as wholly possible that they were busy about something else while the woman got in a few good licks.

Once he and an officer entered a Belgian home which seemed to be deserted, but soon a woman came in and at first was unable to decide whether they were friends or enemies but being assured they were Americans, she insisted on getting them a meal and showing them every possible attention.

One sad sight met him in Belgium. Going into a turnip patch, he saw what he supposed was a soldier sitting on the ground in the act of eating and in closer investigation showed the poor fellow had been killed while in that position and sat there rigid in ideath.

Mr. Carl is especially loud in his praise of the Red Cross which ministered so faithfully and efficently to the needs of the men..

MORE RED BLOOD AND STEADIER NERVES FOR RUN DOWN PEOPLE

The World Demands, Strong, Vigorous, Keen-Minded, Men and Women

It has been said of Americans that they work their habits overtime.

Many become nervous and inefficient by overwork.

By worry, despondency, social affairs, robbing brain and body of needed rest; excessive use of tobacco, indulgence in strong alcoholic drink—excesses of every kind that burn up the vital powers so necessary in these trying times to make both men and women fit, to be of help to themselves and others.

It is time to be temperate in all things. The man or woman with impaired nerves caused by impoverished blood lacks vigor, the ambition, the endurance and the keen mind of those who avoid excesses.

Timidness, despondency, fear, trembling hands, want of confidence and even cowardliness, are due in a large measure to abused nerves.

People with plenty of red blood corpuscles and strong, healthy nerves have no desire to shirk work and lean on others for guidance and support.

There is hardly a nerve-shattered man or woman (unless of an organic disease) in America today who cannot become alert and clear in mind; vigorous and energetic in body in a very few weeks and at trifling cost.

To become strong and ambitious, to feel that work is not drudgery; to have steady nerves, abundance of red blood and power of endurance; to be not only a man but as men now go, a superman, you must take seven tablets of Bio-feren every day for seven days—and take them faithfully.

Take two after each meal and one at bedtime and after seven days take one only after meal until the supply is exhausted.

Then if you feel that any claim made in this special notice is untrue—if your nerves are not twice as steady as before; if you do not feel ambitious, more vigorous and keen-minded, the pharmacist who dispensed the tablets to you will gladly hand you back just what you paid for them.

Bio-feren is without doubt the grandest remedy for nervous, rundown, weak, anaemic men and women ever offered direct through druggists and is not at all expensive. All druggists in this city and vicinity have a supply on hand—sell many packages.

Just as you are particular to see that the word "Sterling" is on the silver you buy, so you should be careful to look for this stamp of quality in a piano or player-piano. It means everything to you because it shows that the instrument is one of the high grade

Pianos and Player-Pianos of the House of Baldwin

When you see this stamp you can be sure that the instrument is the standard of value at its price, that better materials and workmanship cannot be obtained at the price and that it is the most satisfactory instrument that can be secured at the figure for which it sells.

Why Beefsteak Is High

This chart was copied from Bulletin No. 226, U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics. It is the latest that has been issued. 100=1916 price.

Remember when beefsteak was 20c a pound?

Now it's 40 and 50 cents a pound.

Why?

This chart shows that the price packers have had to pay for cattle has gone up with the price received for beef.

In fact, it shows that the "spread" between cattle and beef prices has been gradually reduced during the past 30 years—owing to competition among packers, their increased efficiency, bigger volume, and elimination of waste.

The packer's profit of only a fraction of a cent per poun of meat has helped to narrow this "spread."

Increased farm-production costs have made higher cattle prices necessary.

The TONE TEST

proves* that the

stands alone

"The tone test advertises your instrument most effectively. Who evolved the idea?" a man once inquired of the makers of the New Edison.

"The tone test evolved itself," was the reply. "It was inevitable that the final perfection of the phonograph should be accomplished by some convincing method of demonstrating its merit. It is not a device for advertising the instrument. It is merely a method of demonstrating the truth of our claim that it is impossible to distinguish the voice of the living artist from that of

The New Edison

"The Phonograph With a Soul"

Unquestionably the tone test achieves this result. Picture a famous star of the Metropolitan Opera Company standing beside the New Edison on the concert platform. The instrument begins to play one o fthe diva's own Re-Creations. In a moment, the singer joins in, making a duet. Suddenly the volume of sound diminishes. One or the other has ceased. The question is which; singer of instrument? So absolutely identical are the two renditions that no one, unless he watched the singer's lips, has ever been able to state when it was the singer he heard and when the New Edison.

It is only the New Edison which Re-Creates the singer's voice. Other devices merely imitate it. It is only the New Edison which has been subjected to the searching tone test. No other instrument could sustain the test.

Call at our store tomorrow and hear a demonstration of this marvelous invention.

A Small Bottle of "Danderine" Makes Hair Thick, Glossy and Wavy

Removes All Dandruff, Stops Itching Scalp and Falling Hair

To be possessed of a head of heavy, beautiful hair; soft, lustrous, fluffy, wavy and free from dandruff is merely a matter of using a little Danderine.

It is easy and inexpensive to have nice, soft hair and lots of it. Just get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine now—it costs but a few cents—all drug stores recommend it—apply a little as directed and within ten minutes there will be an appearance of abundance, freshness, fluffiness and an incomparable gloss and lustre, and try as you will you can not find a trace of dandruff or falling hair; but your real surprise will be after about two weeks' use, when you will see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—sprouting out all over your scalp—Danderine is, we believe, the only sure cure for itchy scalp, and it never fails to stop falling hair at once.

If you want to prove how pretty and soft your hair really is, moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it thru your hair—taking one small strand at a time. Your hair will be soft, glossy and beautiful in just a few moments—a delightful surprise awaits everyone who tries this.

CLEMENCEAU RECEIVES MRS. FARNAM

Paris, April 15.—Premier Clemenceau today received from Mrs. Charles H. Farnam of New York, the representative of the committee for the protection of women under international law a resolution signed by 5,000,000 American women relating to crimes against women committed by the Germans and their allies during the war.

Demand is made that all officers, soldiers and civilians belonging to the armies of the central powers who perpetrated any crime against women or girls in any allied country should be punished if possible. The allied nations are asked to take measures to deal adequately with the situation.

UTILITIES ACT FOUND UNCONSTITUTIONAL

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 15.—In the case of the Springfield Gas and Electric Company against the city of Springfield, the supreme court today held the cause in Section 10 of the public utilities act exempting municipally owned public utilities from the operation of the act to be unconstitutional. The decision of the Sangaman county circuit court was reversed.

Chief Justice Duncan and Justice Stone dissented from the majority opinion of the court holding that municipally owned public utility plants are subject to the public utilities commission, but did not file dissenting opinions. The court said the appellee might file an amended opinion if so desired.

Knocking out the section excepting city owned utility plants does not affect the validty of the rest of the public utilities act.

"The persons who use the products or service of public utilities are entitled to the benefits of the public utilities act and are entitled to its protection against distortion, discrimination and inferior service by whomsoever furnished," says the majority opinion. "The furnishing of such service is an ordinary commercial business by whomsoever undertaken. Whether a public utility is owned by a private corporation or by a municipal corporation its relation to its customers is not different. They are under the same compulsion to use its service, are at its mercy to the same extent. If a customer is oppressed by extortionate charges or discriminated against by wrongful rate or inferior service the wrong is the same whether done by a municipal corporation or a private corporation."

URGE CONTINUATION OF CONTROL OF ROADS

PORTLAND, Maine, April 15.—Continuation of federal control of railroads long enough after the next presidential election to allow the voters to express their wishes in regard to the question thru the election of candidates to the sixty-seventh congress, was urged here tonight by Robert W. Wooley, member of the Interstate Commerce Commission, in an address before the Portland Economic Club.

If the railroads were turned back in the near future, he said, the owners would have to put into effect another rate increase to make up for the loss due to lessened traffic since the armistice.

"What would happen if the railroads were to go back into private control in anything like the near future?" Mr. Woolley asked. "Would not receiverships come practically overnight Furthermore, with post-war conditions, how many railroads in the United States are there that would not be in danger of bankruptcy?"

Mr. Woolley advocated adoption of a mileage system, based upon line hauls plus terminal costs, as a fair and equitable plan for making freight rates.

U. S. HAS MANY SHIPS TO FEED EUROPE

WASHINGTON, April 15.—More than 1,500,000 tons of shipping have been assigned by the United States to the work of feeding the peoples of Europe who are threatened with starvation. This became known today, along with the fact that several experts have been sent abroad in an effort to hurry the "turn-around" of American vessels.

Still more tonnage is desired and probably will be allotted next month. Thus far in April 540,000-tons have been added to the "mercy fleet," sailing to ports on the North sea, the Mediterranean and the Adriatic. Virtually the entire relief work has been taken over by the United States. Great Britain confining its efforts to France and Italy. The crews already have been assembled in England to man 300,000 tons of German passenger ships soon to be turned over to the United States. All oofof shr shrdluuu put to carrying troops troops.

NO TRACE OF FLYERS.

Havana, April 15.—Altho it is without official notification of the flight started Saturday from the Isthmus of Panama by American aviators who purposed to try to fly to Key West by way of Havana the Cuban navy department has ordered gunboats to patrol the expected route of the aviators along the Cuban coast.

GOOSE GREASE Better Than Ever

Grandma's old fashioned remedy, turpentine and goose grease, probably has broken up more colds than any other remedy. The combination is still successful, but it has been greatly improved.

MEN-THO-EZE is goose grease and turpentine with menthol, wintergreen, peppermint and other healing oils added. Rubbed on the chest, the goose grease and turpentine do as good work as they did in Grandma's time, but while they are working from the outside, the fumes of the menthol and other oils are inhaled, acting directly on the tender linings of the throat and lungs, relieving the soreness and loosening the phlegm—giving relief in 20 minutes.

Be prepared to treat the next cold as soon as you detect it—before it grows serious. Get a jar of MEN-THO-EZE today and keep it handy. In opal jars, 30c to 60c.

PROSPECTS OF EARLY PEACE ADVANCE STOCKS

NEW YORK, April 16.—The obvious factor in the further advance o fquoted values on the stock exchange today was the speech in commons of the British premier, which confirmed the opinion prevalent in fiancial circles that the peace negotiations were near their conclusion.

Little impression was made upon prices until the final hour, when heavy offerings of leaders, notably steels and shippings, caused an extremely irregular closing.

Apart from U. S. Steel, which rose almost a point to 10½ and fell back to 98¾, the bulk of the dealings once more centered n shippings and oils, equipments showing more activiey.

Metals improced for a time and tobacco, paper and textile issues were advanced 1 to 3 points under guidance of pools, but a majority of the more important stocks registered no losses, rails easing with the general list. Sales amounted to 1,300,000 shares.

Liberty 3½'s were strong. Total sales par value) aggregated $12,875,000.

CORN AVERAGES LOWER IN PRICE

CHICAGO, April 16.—Corn averaged lower in price today owing mainly to chances of a harbor tie-up at New York and of clearing weather thruout the corn belt. Prices closed nervous, varying from ¾c off to ⅛c advance, with May $1.58¼ to $1.58⅜ and July $1.51⅞ to $1.52. Oats finished unchanged to ⅜c down, and privisions at a decline of 20c to 70c Weakness in the corn market was the most evident at the outset. Bears took prompt advantage then of the serious conditions facing shippers as a result of the general strike of New York marine workers looked for tomorrow.

Rallies late were encouraged by knowledge that stocks in Kansas City, Omaha and Chicago totalled 9,000,000 bushels less than the agregate a year ago. Selling pressure, tho, developed on all the hard spots, and kept the market unstable.

Seeding delays prevented any important sag in the oats market.

Provisions like corn dreffecte uncertainly conected with New York harbor troubles. Demand visibly slackened.
